IN CASE ANYTHING HAPPENS TO EITHER RIDER IN THE FIRST MILE, THE OTHER IS TO RIDE SLOWLY UNTIL HIS COMPETITOR IS READY TO GO AGAIN.

Messrs. Shafer and Marks, the managers of Michael and Linton, respectively, met at the Manhattan Beach track yesterday and agreed upon a new order of arrangements for the second m of these riders, which will take place on Saturday. While the present racing rules have served their purpose up to date, the managers and promoters seem determined to make new rules to suit them-

It was agreed that in case an accident happer to either of the principals in the first mile of the race the contest should be started over again. The mere losing of a pedal or an accident to any

The mere losing of a pedal or an accident to any of the pacing leachines will not count.

In case of an accident to either rider after the first mile the fortunate rider will leave his pacing machines and ride slowly, unpaced, until the other man is ready to go again. The referee alone is authorized to stop the riders. Such an arrangement opens the way for innumerable disputes and wrangling. The plan has been tried on the other side, and is said to have met with some success. Both Linton and Michael were hard at work at the track yesterday. Linton went fifteen miles behind five quint teams in 28:10. Michael seemed to be in better physical condition than was the case last Saturday, and he recled off fifteen miles in 27:53. He was paced by six quints. The little fellow seemed to like his work. The betting on the race is about even.

OF INTEREST TO WHEELMEN.

The date of the Century Wheelmen's gymkhana and carnival at Berkeley Oval has been fixed for Saturday, September 3, preceding Labor Day. Among the arrangements for the comfort of visitors to the field during the day will be a line of stages, which will run from the electric line of cars at Fort George across the valley to the oval. at Morris Heights. This picturesque drive of a mile, following the trip to Fort George by the open cars, is almost an inducement in itself to open cars, is almost an inducement in interit of visit the spot. It has been arranged to run in between the features of the gymkhana a number of legitimate races, including probably a paced race, a mile race and other contests.

public, especially on Sundays and holidays. This undesirable chap knows nothing and cares less about the rules of the road, and as a result, he is dangerous to be at large. On the Coney Island Cycle Path on Sunday he was everywhere. Many veteran riders turned back before they got halfway to the island and either turned into some other road or went back home, resolving to ride no more on the paths on Sundays. The wheel hog is seen at his best, or, rather, worst, at the intersections of asphalted streets. He never turns the corners as he should, and if there is any way of doing it he will be found on the wrong side of the road. When remonstrated with he uses vile language nine times out of ten. In case of a collision, where he is invariably to blame, he is the first to ask for redress from the innocent party. Unfortunately, the police appear to take no notice of the road hogs. The only remedy appears to be for law-abiding wheelmen to take the case into their own hands and to give a sound thrashing to several of the hogs. This will probably prove to be the most effective way to remedy the evil.

glass nuisance, which is becoming prevalent in Brooklyn. Tires are suffering, as are the pocketbooks of wheelmen. The tires are not only punctured, but are cut and weakened badly, making future punctures easy. One wheelman's tire was so badly cut up with glass yesterday that a repair man refused to try to repair it. The other day several boys were seen throwing broken glass bottles into the street at Fifth-ave., near Prospect-ave. A passing wheelman called to them that if they did not stop that he would have them arrested. He did not do his whole duty; he ought to have had them arrested on the spot.
